

10

Tips for being a strong self advocate

These tips are from Reinforce, Rainbow Rights and the Positive Powerful Parents Self Advocacy groups.

www.saru.net.au

247 Flinders Lane, Melbourne VIC 3000

1

Believe in yourself

Believe in what you do and know that you have the power to make change.

2

Know your rights

When you know your rights it is easier to stand up for yourself and you can teach other people about rights. Self advocacy groups are a good place to learn about rights.

3

Learn about Self Advocacy

Learn about self advocacy and the changes that other self advocates have made. You can learn by joining a self advocacy group and being part of a self advocacy network.

4

Speak up

You have the right to speak up. Don't be scared to tell people what you think. If you don't speak up then your voice will not be heard.

5 Be passionate

Talk about issues that you are passionate about and believe in what you do. It is easier to do the work when you care about what you are doing.

6 Go to meetings and events with a positive attitude

When you are positive people are more likely to listen to you and it is easier to make change.

7 Don't let knock backs stop you

When people knock you back keep going and learn from the experience. We all get knocked back, don't let it stop you from speaking up.

8 When the work is hard talk to someone you trust

Get support from other self advocates, a friend, a group worker or a counsellor. It can help to talk when you feel down.

9

Come together with other people with disability

Self advocacy can be hard on your own but groups are powerful. When you join with other people it is easier to keep going and make change.

10

From little things big things grow

Don't worry if the changes you want to make are big, take small steps and do what you can.

www.saru.net.au

03 9639 6856